Introduction and course objectives

We all know the old proverb “Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day, teach a man to fish and you feed him for life.” Critical thinking and similar techniques have a similar rationale. Rather than provide an individual with a solution to a single problem, critical thinking is designed to help an individual to solve problems as and when they arise.

In this workshop we will review the underlying principles behind critical thinking theory and practice, and provide practical guidance for developing critical thinking skills.

Having attended this workshop, delegates will be able to improve their personal effectiveness by applying critical thinking techniques in their business and home lives.
